Privacy Statement

1. General confidentiality
   Any information received by Peter White – be it through voice, paper or electronic means – shall remain confidential and cannot be passed on to any third party without the consent of the client. This includes the matter that one is, or has been, a client of Peter White.

2. Personal data
   The introduction of the European Union General Data Protection Regulation in May 2018 formalises practices which Peter White had already followed.

   Personal data - as defined by the European Union General Data Protection Regulation - relates to a living individual who can be identified from that data. Identification can be by the information alone or in conjunction with any other information which is either in the possession of Peter White or likely to come into such possession. Information related to identified and identifiable individuals - including, for example, corporate email addresses with individual names – is not disclosed or processed in any other way other than for Peter White to communicate with that individual. He does not share such data with any third parties without the written permission of the person concerned.

3. What information is maintained
   The only information maintained is that which is integral and necessary for the provision of professional services by Peter White.

4. Who maintains data
   Peter White is the 'data controller' as defined by European Union General Data Protection Regulation – that is, the person who decides how your personal data is processed and for what purposes.

5. Who to contact
   Any concern about data protection should be addressed to Peter White Email: peter@peterwhite.ie.
   Address: Little Rock, Glencullen, Dublin 18, Ireland D18 RD83
   Telephone: ++ 353 1 2950680

6. Over-riding principles
   o   The liberty of the sovereign individual must be our first concern.
   o   What is yours should not be used by anyone else without your expressed permission.
   o   Everyone should be free to be remembered … or forgotten.
